About the National Institute for Staff and Organizational Development (NISOD)	Inside Back Cover

WELCOME FROM NISOD DIRECTOR

The National Institute for Staff and Organizational Development (NISOD) welcomes you to Austin, Texas, the “Live Music Capital of the World!” NISOD’s 36th Annual International Conference on Teaching and Leadership Excellence provides an extremely valuable opportunity to connect and share information with colleagues from across North America and beyond. NISOD has been serving, engaging, and inspiring faculty, staff, and administrators for more than three decades, and this year’s conference and exhibit hall once again present the best and latest information about programs, research, and technology designed to improve student achievement. I am proud to be a part of this esteemed annual conference, which I believe showcases the best of what community and technical colleges are all about—providing opportunities for all individuals who want to improve their knowledge, skills, and circumstances.

NISOD congratulates the 2014 Excellence Awards recipients, and we hope you will wear your medallions proudly—not only during this conference, but also back on your campuses during special events. This is a very prestigious honor you have received, and we are confident you will continue making a positive difference in the lives of students for many more years to come.

If your college is not currently a NISOD member, I encourage you to visit the web page found at www.nisod.org/benefits or to chat with your fellow conference participants who are from NISOD-member colleges to learn more about the wide range of benefits NISOD offers. If your college is already a NISOD member, I hope you are taking full advantage of the opportunities to engage with NISOD in ways that will help take your professional development to the next level. Please visit www.nisod.org/engage to learn about the many ways you can get more involved with NISOD.

I would especially like to thank NISOD’s dedicated staff, our local hotels and other Austin partners, as well as all of our generous sponsors and exhibitors. Without their support and hard work, this conference would not be possible.

Austin has a rich history with lots to see and do. Learn, network, and have fun while in one of the fastest growing cities in the United States. When this conference concludes in a few short days, I hope you will have fond memories of your visit to Austin and that you cannot wait to put into practice some of the new ideas you have collected.

Thank you for joining us, and I hope you enjoy your time at one of the premier conferences in all of higher education!

May 25, 2014

Greetings:

On behalf of the City of Austin, it is my pleasure to welcome you to the 2014 National Institute for Staff and Organizational Development's International Conference on Teaching and Leadership Excellence.

This conference provides a valuable opportunity for the faculty, administrators, and staff of community and technical colleges to engage in conversations about one of our nation's most valuable resources. The opportunities these institutions provide for students are invaluable and this conference's focus on improving student achievement is to be commended. Austin is privileged to be the host city for such an event.

I would also like to take this opportunity to congratulate the recipients of the Excellence Awards. Thank you for your dedication to your students and your colleagues and for your commitment to excellence and innovation.

Please take some time to enjoy our great city during your stay. I encourage you to check out the music scene of the "Live Music Capital of the World," enjoy some barbecue and Tex-Mex, or soak up the sun with a walk around Lady Bird Lake or a dip in Barton Springs. Of course, you will not want to miss the Lyndon Baines Johnson Presidential Library and Museum at the University of Texas, or a tour of the Texas State Capitol. Named one of the "Least Stressed Cities" in the U.S., I am certain that Austin will provide you the opportunity to relax and enjoy your visit.

Welcome and best wishes for a successful conference!

Sincerely,

Lee Leffingwell
Mayor

GENERAL INFORMATION

Conference Registration

Conference registration is located outside Ballroom D (Level 4) at the Austin Convention Center. Registration is the place for participants to get information about the program, leave or receive messages, make special arrangements, and ask questions about NISOD. The conference registration area is open from 12:00 p.m. Sunday until 5:00 p.m. Tuesday.

Registration fees provide admission to the Exhibit Hall, Excellence Awards Dinner and Celebration, General Sessions, Special Sessions, Breakout Sessions, Roundtable Discussions, Poster Sessions, Tuesday's Lunch and Tuesday's Dinner and Jam Session, Coffee and Refreshment Networking Breaks, and the Evening Receptions. A conference registration badge is required for admission to all conference events. Please wear your badge at all times. Each registered conference participant receives a ticket for a complimentary beverage at the evening receptions.

Follow NISOD on Twitter

Keep up in real-time with what's going on at NISOD by following us on Twitter. Watch for:

- schedule information,
- late-breaking news,
- conference buzz, and
- Twitter only giveaways!

Use #NISOD2014 to tweet about your experience and to see what other participants are saying about the conference.

Navigating the Convention Center

Refer to signage throughout the Austin Convention Center and the map on page 71 of this Conference Program to direct you to conference sessions and events.

Cyber Café

Tyler Junior College and NISOD have designed an email and Internet browsing system that allows conference participants to send and receive messages within the conference and around the world. The Cyber Café is located near Registration on Level 4. Cyber Café stations will be available 12:00 p.m. Sunday through 11:30 a.m. Wednesday (during normal Austin Convention Center operating hours).

Charging Stations

Recharge yourself while recharging your mobile device! There are charging stations near seating areas placed on Level 4 of the Austin Convention Center where attendees can charge their devices, network, work, and eat and drink.

Complimentary WiFi

Conference participants with wireless network interface cards in their mobile devices are able to access the internet by using the complimentary wireless network available throughout the Austin Convention Center.

Austin Convention and Visitors Bureau

The Austin Convention and Visitors Bureau (ACVB) welcomes conference participants to Austin. Stop by the ACVB table located on Level 4 near registration for information about things to do while in Austin. The ACVB table is staffed 8:00 a.m. – 4:00 p.m. on Monday and Tuesday.

Business Center

The Austin Convention Center's Business Center provides copying and faxing services, as well as business supplies. It is located on the first floor, midway down the hallway facing Trinity Street, and is open 8:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m. Monday, 8:00 a.m. - 4:30 p.m. Tuesday, and 7:00 - 11:00 a.m. Wednesday.

Excellence Awards Kiosks

Many of the photos and quotes submitted by 2014 Excellence Awards recipients will be shown on computer kiosks on Level 4 of the Austin Convention Center. The showings are divided by college name among the two kiosks:

Colleges A-M: Level 4, outside 12B
Colleges N-Z: Level 4, outside 16B

Exhibit Hall Passport System

Each participant's registration packet contains a Passport to the Exhibit Hall. Visit each of the exhibitors on your passport to receive an official stamp. Once all the spaces are filled, drop your completed passport at the conference registration counter. The drawing will be held on Tuesday, May 27, at 1:45 p.m. in the Exhibit Hall. You must be present to win.

Name Badges

Name badges should be worn throughout the conference to gain entry to sessions and special events. In addition, instead of exchanging business cards, participants can use the conference app or another QR code reader to scan the QR code on colleagues' name badges in order to get contact information stored on their mobile device instead of taking up room in their wallets.

Conference App

The NISOD App allows attendees to manage the conference experience on their mobile devices. App features include:

- Searchable speaker and exhibitor listings with contact information, descriptions, and booth locations;
- Up-to-date session schedules and personalized agendas with reminders;
- An interactive to-do list for items you do not want to miss;
- Austin Convention Center maps and floor plans;
- Shared photo albums where attendees can upload photos;
- Facebook and Twitter access within the App; and
- Feedback for aspects of the conference experience, including presentations.

Download the app for free on iTunes and Android's PlayStore.

Smoking

NISOD and the Austin Convention Center maintain a smoke-free environment. Smoking is not permitted in any of the meeting rooms or in the Exhibit Hall.

Security/First Aid/Emergencies

Should conference participants need to contact security, seek first aid, or have an emergency, they should go directly to the conference registration desk on Level 4. NISOD personnel will determine your needs and respond immediately. Additionally, conference participants can seek aid at the Front Desk or from the Concierge available in their respective hotel lobbies.

Lost and Found

During the conference, all lost items turned in are held at the registration desk on Level 4. Following the conference, all turned in items are returned to the NISOD office. Please contact Geoff Finucane at the registration desk while at the conference and at (512) 471-7545 following the conference to investigate lost items.

Recording Presentations

Recording of presentations by video, photography, audio, or other recording or reproduction mechanism is not permitted without the express written consent of NISOD, except by presenters who want to record their own presentations. NISOD reserves the rights to all recordings or reproductions at its conference. Portions of NISOD's conference are going to be electronically recorded. By participating in the conference, registrants agree that NISOD may electronically copy or audiotape their attendance at and involvement in any conference activity.

Photos

Photographs will be taken throughout NISOD's conference and associated events. By attending these activities, registrants agree that their photograph may be used in NISOD communications and promotional materials.

Want to Present at NISOD's 2015 Conference?

Proposals to present are being accepted now for NISOD's 2015 conference, May 24-27, at the Austin Convention Center. If you or someone you know has a great idea for a presentation at next year's conference, go to www.nisod.org/2015cfp and submit your proposal online.

Navigating the Conference Program

This year's program is exceptionally full. Conference participants will be challenged in their choice of sessions to attend since there are so many stimulating presentations from which to choose. NISOD's 2014 conference provides an amazing array of learning opportunities for participants, including General Sessions, Preconference Seminars, Special Sessions, Breakout Sessions, Roundtable Discussions, Poster Sessions, and Refreshment and Coffee Breaks. To help you make the most of your time at the conference, we offer the following navigational tips:

- All conference events take place at the Austin Convention Center (Level 4), Austin Hilton Hotel, Four Seasons Hotel, and Marriott Courtyard. Maps are available in the back of this Conference Program.
- The Schedule at a Glance is included inside the front cover of this program to give you the big-picture view.
- A Personal Planner on page 74 helps you design your personal conference schedule.
- All session listings within this Conference Program follow the format below:

Session Title
Room • Strand
Session Description
Presenter(s)

Session Formats

Presentations are offered at the conference in the following formats:

- General Sessions
General Sessions provide an opportunity to learn from national keynote speakers who discuss topics of interest to all conference participants while setting the context and underlying tone for the conference.

- Special Sessions

Special Sessions are open to all participants and feature invited speakers exploring topics specifically developed for the NISOD audience. Special Sessions are being recorded for on-demand viewing after the conference by faculty, staff, and administrators at NISOD-member colleges. To learn more about how to access the members-only section of our website or how your college can become a NISOD member, contact Sheryl Powell at the registration counter (Level 4) during open registration hours or at sfpowell@austin.utexas.edu following the conference.

- Breakout Sessions

Breakout Sessions address topics within the nine program strands and are 45 minutes in length. They are intended for 25-75 participants and may include multiple presenters. Presenters are expected to engage participants in interactive learning activities, provide handouts, and be prepared to respond to post-conference requests for more information.

- Roundtable Discussions

Roundtable Discussions offer a more interactive venue for the exploration of key issues within the program strands. These discussions accommodate up to 10 participants and are limited to two discussion leaders. Multiple Roundtable Discussions are scheduled simultaneously in Room 15. Roundtable Discussions are 45 minutes in length and are particularly well-suited for exploratory topics and hands-on demonstrations that require small group interaction and more individual attention than a larger group would accommodate.

- Poster Sessions

Poster Sessions, located outside Room 18C, are a visual approach to presenting research findings or describing an activity or program. The aim is to use the Poster Session as a means for generating active discussion about the project or research. Poster Sessions are displayed throughout the conference, but specific times are scheduled when participants can have informal conversations with Poster Session presenters. Poster Sessions are judged during the conference and prizes are awarded. A panel of judges award three levels of awards and conference attendees vote for a "Best of Show" winner.

Program Strands

Breakout sessions address topics within nine program strands.

Teaching and Learning

Presentation topics in this strand include strategies designed to increase student academic achievement while promoting a campus culture that values and rewards teaching, respects and supports individual differences among learners, and encourages the creation of learning environments in which diverse students can learn and excel.

Student Support Services

Presentation topics in this strand include innovations designed to help students enhance their academic skills, increase their retention and graduation rates, meet basic college requirements, and successfully complete their academic pursuits.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Educational Technology

Presentation topics in this strand include strategies designed to improve student and organizational learning by creating, using, and managing appropriate technological processes and resources.

Diversity and Inclusion

Presentation topics in this strand include high-quality, high-impact strategies designed to continually and successfully embed diversity, equity, and inclusion into a campus culture that values different perspectives and fosters student, employee, and community engagement.

Culture of Evidence

Presentation topics in this strand include strategies designed to improve, revise, and introduce comprehensive systems used to collect and analyze data required to improve student learning outcomes.

Faculty and Staff Development

Presentation topics in this strand include strategies designed to maximize the professional and personal development of faculty and staff to improve teaching practices, strengthen leadership and management skills, and facilitate institutional commitment.

Developmental and Adult Education

Presentation topics in this strand include strategies designed to successfully transition students into higher education through developmental education, adult high school, ESL, GED, adult basic education, and similar offerings.

Economic and Workforce Development

Presentation topics in this strand include strategies designed to successfully align college resources with business- and industry-sector needs to meet local demands for skilled workers.

Leadership and Organizational Development

Presentation topics in this strand include strategies designed to manage change and achieve outstanding results through improvements in leadership, decision-making, planning, conflict resolution, marketing, advocacy, and fundraising.

Excellence Awards Recipients Presentations

Since 1989, NISOD has been honored to recognize community and technical college faculty, administrators, and staff for their achievements and contributions to their institutions. NISOD is honored to be able to recognize and celebrate such outstanding individuals, including strongly encouraging them to make presentations at our annual conference. Sessions presented by 2014 Excellence Award recipients are indicated throughout the Conference Program by this medallion.

Corporate Partner Presentations

Corporate Partner presentations, which are open to all registered participants, provide the opportunity to hear individuals representing NISOD Corporate Partners who share information about their products and services.

Refreshment Breaks, Coffee Breaks, and Receptions

Refreshment Breaks, Coffee Breaks, and Receptions provide an opportunity to enjoy complimentary snacks and drinks as you browse the Exhibit Hall. Mingle with colleagues and meet with experts to research and gather information about solutions to today's campus challenges.

Baccalaureate Expectations of Community College Students: Socio-Demographic, Motivational, and Contextual Influences

ROOM 17A • CULTURE OF EVIDENCE

This research investigates socio-demographic, motivational, and postsecondary contextual factors underlying community college students' baccalaureate expectations. The study illuminates the importance of cultivating positive motivational beliefs, promoting academic integration, and improving remedial practices to help community college students move further toward their educational goals. This knowledge will help community college leaders seek innovative ways to better streamline student choices in alignment with their educational expectations.

Xueli Wang, Assistant Professor, Higher and Postsecondary Education, University of Wisconsin-Madison (WI)

It's Ladies in Technology Night!

ROOM 18A • DIVERSITY AND INCLUSION

Research shows that a department's culture is what will attract, retain, and graduate females from a specific major. The presenters share examples of student work and illustrate a fashion show that closely imitates a Ladies in Technology Night. Learn what you can do to attract, retain, and graduate more females in STEM fields.

Sara Lozano, Assistant Professor, Architectural Technology; Laura Salas, Assistant Professor, Business and Technology; Margarita Vanguelova, Assistant Professor, Surveying, South Texas College (TX)

Transformative Change Strategies in TAACCCT Consortia

ROOM 18B • ECONOMIC AND WORKFORCE DEVELOPMENT

The Transformative Change Initiative has formed a consortia of over 220 colleges that are dedicated to transformative change. Participating colleges are scaling innovations at local, state, and consortium levels. This session engages participants in a dialogue about the accomplishments and challenges colleges and their partners face when implementing large-scale grants like the Trade Adjustment Assistance Community College and Career Training.

Catherine Kirby, Research Information Specialist, Office of Community College Research and Leadership, University of Illinois (IL)

A Group That Advises Together Graduates Together!

ROOM 18C • STUDENT SUCCESS

Students frequently construct their own course schedules without the input of someone from their academic program. Although this may be more convenient, the consequences are often devastating. Data show that students who attend group advising demonstrate more favorable outcomes. The presenters discuss the data and demonstrate advising tools and their adaptability in advising a cross section of students.

Mary Beth Barton, Professor/Chairperson, Hospitality; Irene Sancinoto, Professor, Mathematics, Bunker Hill Community College (MA)

Creating a Culture of Trust and Transparency Through Strategic Planning

ROOM 18D • LEADERSHIP AND ORGANIZATIONAL DEVELOPMENT

Colleges are experiencing an unprecedented turnover in leadership. Staff and faculty are excited, but often apprehensive when a new president begins his or her tenure. Find out how one college with a new president took advantage of this opportunity to create an inclusive and comprehensive strategic plan.

Jo Alice Blondin, President; Christopher Bays, Associate Professor, English; Cynthia Applin, Director, Institutional Research, Clark State Community College (OH)

Implementing a Faculty Mentoring Program to Increase Student Success

ROOM 19A • STUDENT SUCCESS

The Faculty Mentoring Program establishes a network of academic and personal support to students who have been referred for intervention through the Early Warning System. Learn details about the mentoring program and success data, lessons learned, and suggestions for implementing a similar program at your institution. Participants discuss possible interventions for specific student scenarios, as well as hear faculty and student testimonials.

Awilda Delgado, Assistant Professor, Mathematics; Trish Joyce, Assistant Professor, English; Esmeralda Sweeney, Associate Dean, Learning Resources, Broward College (FL)

Faculty Development for Distance Learning Academic Staff

ROOM 17B • DEVELOPING FACULTY AND STAFF

There is a proliferation of professional development programs and initiatives, structured in a variety of ways, which focus on faculty roles. This session outlines a local faculty development program for academic staff who work with adult students across a variety of distance learning delivery modes. The session begins with a brief overview of the program followed by case study analysis.

Mike Gillespie, Associate Dean, Central New York Center; Desalyn DeSouza, Assistant Professor, Community and Human Services, Empire State College (NY)

2:00 – 2:45 p.m.

Breakout Sessions (cont.)

A Game-Changing Program for African-American Students

ROOM 19B • DIVERSITY AND INCLUSION

Come explore the Multicultural Academic Support for Students program that helps students learn to make good academic choices and improve their academic skills. Each student is assigned an Academic Coach who establishes a foundation of trust and support by teaching self-advocacy, goal clarification, time management, study skills, and developing personal plans.

Steve Head, President; Dorothy Dixon, Dean, Academic Success Initiatives, Lone Star College-North Harris (TX)

2:00 – 2:45 p.m.

Roundtable Discussions

Roundtable Discussions are held in Room 15.

Multicultural Competency: Basic Skills for Global Citizens in Our Classroom

ROUNDTABLE DISCUSSION #1 • DIVERSITY AND INCLUSION

Learn how to increase self-understanding, challenge stereotypes, implement multicultural competency training in your courses, and what you need to consider when working with students with whom you have a minimum connection.

Burcin Ogrenir, Assistant Professor, Education and Language Acquisition, LaGuardia Community College (NJ)

Teaching for Application: An Introduction to the Statistics Course Approach

ROUNDTABLE DISCUSSION #2 • EDUCATIONAL TECHNOLOGY

Linking course materials to real-world applications is often a challenge. In data-driven courses, this is easier to achieve using technology and group projects. Participants discuss using methodology, rather than content, to demonstrate how this model can work with other courses.

Lucille Skelton, Lecturer, Mathematics, H. Lavity Stoutt Community College (British Virgin Islands)

Improving Student Performance by Removing Psychological Barriers

ROUNDTABLE DISCUSSION #3 • TEACHING AND LEARNING

Students often fail to succeed in test-taking situations because of pressure. One solution is to free the working memory of its anxieties by writing out concerns. Come discuss the results of a study in which students were asked to write about their worries before a difficult math test.

Shalini Gopalkrishnan, Professor, Mathematics, Valencia College (FL)

A Longitudinal Study Comparing Online to Traditional Delivery

ROUNDTABLE DISCUSSION #4 • TEACHING AND LEARNING

Can chemistry be successfully taught online? Participants discuss the results of a longitudinal study that focused on an introductory chemistry course taught using online and face-to-face delivery modes.

Patrick Greco, Professor, Chemistry, Sinclair Community College (OH)

2:00 – 4:00 p.m.

Preconference Seminars, $50

Promoting Academic Success for Men of Color With Student Focus Groups

ROOM 13B

Analysis of data on the engagement, progress, and success of Latino and Black men in community colleges often leads to more questions than answers. Session participants discuss the issues surrounding success for Latino and Black men—drawing from the recent findings from the Center for Community College Student Engagement's special report on this topic. Participants learn how to conduct systematic focus groups with men of color at their own colleges. The facilitators highlight how focus group results can be used to target areas for improvement and promote increased successful outcomes for these students.

The Keys to Maximizing Student Potential

ROOM 14

Be prepared to laugh out loud and be energized as we look at real-life opportunities that challenge you to reexamine your passion, commitment, and attitude. Participants discover that the distance between complacency and excellence is a very short trip, and in order to travel this short distance, they must focus on details often overlooked. These details include creating a positive environment, creating hope, believing in students' abilities, and connecting with the iY generation. This session will inspire participants to examine ways to win with students, parents, and the community.

Kevin Tutt, Partner, Tutt and Dags (TX)

How Urban Community College Faculty Help Us Succeed and Achieve Completion

ROOM 17A • TEACHING AND LEARNING

The presenters explain how their professors mentored and guided them toward college completion by using effective teaching methods, mentoring, and other academic activities to increase their understanding and interest in science. Come sign a Community College Completion Corps Pledge Card as a reminder of your commitment to encourage students to complete!

Jennyfer Gonzalez, Student; Carlos Gutierrez, Student, Hudson County Community College (NJ)

Advising for Student Success!

ROOM 18D • STUDENT SUCCESS

Come hear an overview of one college's academic advising journey, specifically, the planning, collaboration between faculty and staff, and the implementation of the student success management plan. New student orientation, staff and faculty academic advising, and graduation programs and their impact on student success are also highlighted.

Robert Garza, Vice President, Student Success; Katherine Doss, Director, Student Success, Palo Alto College (TX)

Connecting With Students Early On to Help Ensure Their Success

ROOM 19A • STUDENT SUCCESS

Do you want your students to succeed early on? The presenters share an innovative way to help students feel welcome while introducing them to the student success services available on campus.

James McCoy, Associate Vice President, Academic Affairs; Michelle Word, Coordinator, Academic Affairs; Dave Morgan, Director, Marketing, College of Southern Nevada (NV)

The Periodic Table Is a Result of Math and Geometry!

Models of the atomic orbital have been constructed and are used to illustrate an effective teaching strategy for the Periodic Table.

Charles A. Heller, Professor, Chemistry, Blinn College (TX)

3:00 – 3:45 p.m.

Roundtable Discussions

Roundtable Discussions are held in Room 15.

Language Learning in an iPad-Enhanced Flipped Classroom

ROUNDTABLE DISCUSSION #1 • TEACHING AND LEARNING

Learn about a hybrid course where students use iPads to apply learned concepts. Following a brief opening discussion, participants are issued iPads and take part in exercises similar to what Elementary Spanish students experience in a flipped classroom.

Tom McDonnell, Dean, Humanities and Visual Arts; Dallas Jurisevic, Instructor, Spanish, Metropolitan Community College (NE)

Can We Teach Physical Skills Over the Internet?

ROUNDTABLE DISCUSSION #2 • TEACHING AND LEARNING

The Australian Federal Government provides a CD and Internet access to an aquatics program to parents of children born in that country. Explore the results of the program and suggestions for incorporating it into colleges as a course or as a community service project.

David Jones, Faculty Coordinator, Physical Education, Cuyahoga Community College (OH)

Engaging Students in Global Learning: Knowledge, Skills, and Dispositions

ROUNDTABLE DISCUSSION #3 • DIVERSITY AND INCLUSION

Do you want to explore strategies for enhancing diversity awareness and global learning in your classes? Come discuss learning activities that can prepare students to become globally competent citizens.

Meghmal Tarafdar, Associate Director, Center for Excellence in Teaching and Learning, Queensborough Community College (NY)

3:00 – 3:45 p.m.

Breakout Sessions

Quiet Your Concurrent and Dual Enrollment Critics Through Accreditation

ROOM 12B • CULTURE OF EVIDENCE

In 2002, the National Alliance of Concurrent Enrollment Partnerships created national standards for concurrent enrollment. The presenter describes the national standards and the CollegeNow program, the path to national accreditation status, and how this status benefits the program. Examples of recent faculty site visit reports, syllabus checklists, and other program aspects are provided.

Loralee Stevens, Assistant Dean, Community Outreach, Johnson County Community College (KS)

Valuing Teaching and Learning: Building a Culture of Faculty Development

ROOM 17B • DEVELOPING FACULTY AND STAFF

Building on recent literature, a Center for Teaching and Learning (CTL) was established at Laramie County Community College.

This session shares the research supporting the need for ongoing faculty development, the work of the CTL to build a culture of faculty development, and lessons learned.

Melissa McAllister, Instructor, ESL; Kari Brown-Herbst, Instructor, Web Design; Jose Fierro, Vice President, Academic Affairs, Laramie County Community College (WY)

CLEP and STEM: Acronyms for Hispanic Student Success

ROOM 18A • DIVERSITY AND INCLUSION

This presentation focuses on data compiled by North Lake College during a study that determined whether Hispanic students taking Spanish CLEP would be better prepared for various STEM majors.

Kent Seaver, Director, Learning Resources, North Lake College (TX)

Asynchronous Video Conferencing: Working One-to-One With Online Students

ROOM 18C • EDUCATIONAL TECHNOLOGY

How can online instructors spend one-to-one time with students when they contend with large class sizes and when teachers and students don't have the same free time? Asynchronous video conferencing offers an exciting supplement to text-based communication in online learning environments.

Daniel Cleary, Assistant Professor, English, Lorain County Community College (OH)

3:00 – 3:45 p.m.

Roundtable Discussions (cont.)

Becoming a Transformed Institution: BCC System Changes for Student Success

ROUNDTABLE DISCUSSION #4 • LEADERSHIP AND ORGANIZATIONAL DEVELOPMENT

Paradigm shifts happened as a result of the Massachusetts Community College Workforce Transformation Agenda. Discussed during this session are a planning and implementation process, online tools, and organizational strategies for embracing institutional changes that support community needs.

Kristen McKenna, Director, Transformation Agenda, Bristol Community College (MA)

4:00 – 4:45 p.m.

Special Session

Community College Presidents Challenge Minority Male Performance Status Quo

ROOM 17A • DIVERSITY AND INCLUSION

Minority men often have to deal with misguided assumptions about them that negatively affect classroom performance and success. They must also deal with the added perceptions that they are not good students, are enrolled for the wrong reasons, and are not fully interested in higher education. Addressing these misconceptions must start with college presidents if these young men are expected to change these stereotypes. Since their programs and strategies intersect along many paths and differ along others, proven best practices and new and innovative programs naturally emerge. The presenters have taken on the challenge of improving minority male retention and graduation and share essential components of their programs and examples and results of innovative and best practices.

Jennifer Wimbish, President and CEO, Cedar Valley Community College (TX); Daniel Lovett, Director, Title III and Male Mentoring Programs; Ervin Griffin, Sr., President and CEO, Halifax Community College (NC); Lawrence Rouse, President and CEO, James B. Sprunt Community College (NC)

4:00 – 4:45 p.m.

Breakout Sessions

Prove You Are Improving

ROOM 12B • CULTURE OF EVIDENCE

Maine Maritime Academy's outcomes assessment focus is to improve student success by creating a collaborative and dynamic process that engages faculty, students, and staff. A template that uses data to inform change, advance programs, and affect budget allocation is demonstrated. Participants use the template with their own data and discuss how to monitor and communicate the results to assure attention is secured at higher administrative levels.

Susan Loomis, Professor, Humanities and Communication, and Chair, Outcomes Assessment, Maine Maritime Academy (ME)

Plus-50 Student Engagement and Completion

ROOM 17B • DIVERSITY AND INCLUSION

The Plus-50 program focuses on student engagement and student success for older learners. Come and hear diversity and inclusion data that undergird the Plus-50 program, program description, student organization design and impact, and generational comparative approaches to student support and development.

Larry Darlage, President, Northeast Campus; Jackie Washington, Vice President, Continuing Education; Debra Sykes West, Coordinator, Plus-50 Initiatives, Tarrant County College (TX)

Career and Academic Planning Professional Development: A Faculty-Driven Model

ROOM 18A • DEVELOPING FACULTY AND STAFF

Participants in this session learn about modularized professional development activities designed to increase faculty members' ability to advise students regarding challenging career and academic advising situations. Course content and team formation, direct and indirect faculty learning outcomes, evolution of the series, and the advancement of institutional policies and practices as a result of the series are discussed.

Andrew Walker, Director, Career and Academic Planning; Van Madray, Dean, Construction Industrial Technology; Lori Preast, Director, Teaching and Learning Development, Pitt Community College (NC)

Making Videos Interactive

ROOM 18C • EDUCATIONAL TECHNOLOGY

This session is intended for educators who are interested in using technology and videos to enhance instruction and engage students. Participants explore EduCanon and EdPuzzle, which enable users to add questions and comments to videos to direct students' attention and to ascertain their understanding of specific concepts. Instructions for creating interactive videos with EduCanon and EdPuzzle are provided.

Dorothy Chase, Professor, English, College of Southern Nevada (NV)

Celebrate Shakespeare 450: The Shakespeare Revue Made Easy

ROOM 18D • TEACHING AND LEARNING

Hear a brief explanation of the Shakespeare revue and how to organize one in conjunction with English, drama, and possibly instrumental music, vocal music, and dance. This year marks the 450th anniversary of Shakespeare's birth. Celebrate it! A Shakespeare revue is easier than you think.

David Farmer, Adjunct Instructor, English, Gaston College (NC)

Engaging First-Time-in-College Students With Creative Problem Solving

ROOM 19A • TEACHING AND LEARNING

Using constructivist learning theory, participants explore practical exercises for solving typical student success course content challenges faced by first-time-in-college students. Participants engage in idea generation and evaluation using the rules of divergence and convergence, respectively.

Jack Hernandez, Counselor and Professor, Lone Star College System (TX)

"The meaning of life is to find your gift. The purpose of life is to give it away" (Picasso). Benevolent challenger, this is my gift. I seek to challenge students to express the best in themselves, serving as a guide on the side in students' discovery of potential. I'm inspired as I walk with students building a path together on their learning journey.

Roundtable Discussions

Roundtable Discussions are held in Room 15.

Scarlett, Emmett, and Lucy: Motivation Through Themed Courses

ROUNDTABLE DISCUSSION #1 • TEACHING AND LEARNING
Come and discover how a typical English composition syllabus can be transformed into an entertaining course using historical and popular culture themes. Learn strategies for developing assignments and leave with ideas for transforming your syllabi.

Lisa Shaw, Associate Professor, English and Communications, Miami Dade College (FL)

Imagine! The Signs, They Are A-Changing

ROUNDTABLE DISCUSSION #2 • TEACHING AND LEARNING
Human communication comprises a sign-making process where expression unites with meaning to transmit information. Participants discuss how to take advantage of social media in education, given the modern signs that are frequently conceived and transmitted.

Katherine Watson, Professor, Distance Learning, Coastline Community College (CA)

Beyond Us and Them: Engaging the Perspectives of Immigrant Students

ROUNDTABLE DISCUSSION #3 • DIVERSITY AND INCLUSION
Participants examine the status of community college immigrant students and consider strategies to ensure the voices of immigrant students are heard and respected. Participants are challenged to consider how to bring this vision to fruition.

Audrey Ambrosino, Adjunct Faculty, Social Science, Middlesex Community College (MA)

The Use and Application of Memorandums of Understanding

ROUNDTABLE DISCUSSION #4 • TEACHING AND LEARNING
Learn how to use Memorandums of Understanding successfully to engage students in real-life experiences as Crime Scene Investigators (CSI) while also supporting small police departments with their CSI and forensic analysis needs.

Paul Friedman, Professor and Department Chair, Crime Scene Technology and Criminal Justice, Palm Beach State College (FL)

Successful human development begins when one is empowered to enter into a process of personal expression and exploration. I have found that introducing my students to this process, encouraging them to engage it, and guiding them in "connecting the dots" that exist between the material, their lives, and the world beyond to be one of the most rewarding things I do.

I live by the motto "Aspire to Inspire Before You Expire." This holds special meaning to me because I teach my students to become Paramedics. Each student knows that when they graduate they will have the ability to make the difference between life and death. I strive to instill my love for medicine in my students in hopes that they will pass it on. They truly know how to embrace life every day because they know it can change in the blink of an eye.

Leading: The Alamo Way

ROOM 17A

The Alamo Way, the educational philosophy that drives student, employee, and organizational success throughout the Alamo Colleges, includes three foundations—Student Success, Principle-Centered Leadership, and Performance Excellence. In addition to training all employees in Covey's The 7 Habits of Highly Effective People with the objective of developing a Leader in Every Seat, principle-centered leadership will be integrated throughout the curriculum to develop our students—including dual credit and early college high schools—as proactive, productive, and engaging leaders. The presenters share their strategies for reaching 65,000 students through and engaging them in principle-centered leadership.

Inquiring for STEM: Kick Start High School Connections With Our Institute

ROOM 14 • TEACHING AND LEARNING

Learn how to help teachers develop inquiry-based lessons that link their classrooms to the real world. At the core of the program is using inquiry to help students learn the problem-solving process through an activity (e.g., making a spinning top) that allows teachers to explore the concept of inquiry.

Charlie Setterfield, Associate Professor, Architectural Technology; Thomas Singer, Professor, Mechanical Engineering Technology, Sinclair Community College (OH)

Problem-Based Learning 101

ROOM 16A • TEACHING AND LEARNING

Do you ever wonder if true learning occurs in your classes? Problem-Based Learning 101 walks you through a simple activity-building framework that can be applied to any course in any discipline. It challenges you to rely less on tired lecture techniques and, instead, place learning in the hands of the learners with you serving as the content coach.

Service Learning: Good Pedagogy and Good Practice

ROUNDTABLE DISCUSSION #4 • TEACHING AND LEARNING

Discuss how service learning provides students with valuable opportunities to apply what they learn in the classroom to real-life situations, while also allowing the institution to serve the community in new ways.

Ashley Stone, Coordinator, Service Learning, Longhorn Center for Civic Engagement, The University of Texas at Austin (TX)

Teaching and Learning for Tomorrow: Beyond Assessment of Learning Outcomes

ROUNDTABLE DISCUSSION #5 • TEACHING AND LEARNING

If one of the goals of education is to prepare students for the next level, why should we only assess students on lower-level problems that do not require critical thinking? Why should we continue the practice of giving questions similar to actual exam questions as review? Explore whether students would be more prepared and feel more empowered if review concepts were given.

Michael Odu, Professor, Mathematics; Desmond Sawyerr, Professor, English, Hillsborough Community College (FL)

Critical Thinking Across the Curriculum: Where Do I Start?

ROUNDTABLE #6 • TEACHING AND LEARNING

Students need critical thinking skills to survive in the workplace. How do we infuse this valuable commodity into our classrooms? Excellence in thought can be systematically cultivated. Learn how to adapt and apply best practices in your classroom, including standards, elements and intellectual traits of critical thinking, websites, active learning styles, promoting teamwork, problems, and successes.

The Art of Teaching and Learning Through Conversation

ROOM 13A • TEACHING AND LEARNING

Learn how to promote active learning by facilitating small- and large-group conversations that encourage students to listen to one another, elaborate on the contributions of others, agree or disagree with one another in a civil and productive manner, give reasons for their opinions, cite evidence to support their opinions, and appropriately address challenges to their opinions.

Michael Iachetta, Program Coordinator, Government, Richland College (TX)

Student Engagement: What Does Trust Have to Do With It?

ROOM 13B • TEACHING AND LEARNING

During a series of activities, participants explore what student engagement is and what it takes to develop a classroom environment that promotes engagement through active and collaborative learning. By experiencing the pedagogy of cooperative learning, participants discover how important trust, communication, and teamwork are in developing student engagement.

Linda Reeves, Associate Professor and Training Coordinator, Cooperative Learning; Cindy Magruder, Assistant Professor and Coordinator, Teamwork Assessment, Northwest Vista College (TX)

Curricular Alignment to Promote the Successful Transfer of STEM Students

ROOM 14 • TEACHING AND LEARNING

Helping STEM students successfully transfer inspired collaboration between a university and four community colleges. Participants consider how this project can be adapted at their institutions, discuss representative questions from survey tools to experience the methodology and offer their viewpoints and input, and explore how to begin or join conversations with faculty in their disciplines.

Maureen Sherer, Professor, Chemistry; Richard Cerkovnik, Director, STEM Center, Anne Arundel Community College (MD); Maria Sanchez, Project Coordinator, STEM Transfer Success Initiative, University of Maryland Baltimore Campus (MD)

Service Learning for Student Success and Citizenship

ROOM 16A • TEACHING AND LEARNING

 Hear from two college professors who successfully implemented service learning in the classroom with usable results for students, institutions, and communities. Learn how to secure funding and administrative support for service learning at your institution. This session is designed to share best practices with current and future service learning practitioners.

Patrick McDermott, Associate Professor, College Success and Career Planning; Lindsey Smitherman-Brown, Assistant Professor, Humanities, Tallahassee Community College (FL)

The New Mathways Project: Implementing Reform in Developmental Mathematics

ROOM 16B • DEVELOPMENTAL AND ADULT EDUCATION

Learn about the New Mathways Project principles being implemented in community colleges across the state of Texas, including the preparations necessary during the academic year prior to implementation. Other discussions include an overview of the primary responsibilities of different stakeholders and additional resources that the Dana Center can provide your institution as you go through your implementation process.

Tina Jackson, Program Coordinator, Charles A. Dana Center for Science and Mathematics Education, The University of Texas at Austin (TX)

Improving Academic Skills and Promoting Higher-Order Cognitive Development

ROOM 18A • TEACHING AND LEARNING

Too many students lack reading comprehension and study skills. Compounding this problem is their narrow approach to learning that seems to focus more on memorization than on application. Explore how to address these challenges by holding students accountable for studying outside of class and for mastering reading comprehension and question-answering skills.

Joycie Wawiye, Assistant Professor, Biology, New River Community and Technical College (WV)

Accelerated Programmer Training Talk

ROOM 18B • EDUCATIONAL TECHNOLOGY

This session is a summary of a Trade Adjustment Assistance Community College and Career Training Grant that develops computer programming course delivery methods that are online, self-paced, competency-based, and faster than traditional college courses. Learn the process of converting existing classroom-taught computer programming and support courses into self-paced, distance learning, competency-based courses.

Linda Smarzik, Dean, Computer Studies and Advance Technology; Michael Martino, Adjunct Professor, Computer Information Technology; Mary Kohls, Chair, Computer Studies; Millie Marquis, Coach, Accelerated Programmer Training; Ninghua Han, Instructional Designer, Accelerated Programmer Training; Sam Greer, Director, Accelerated Programmer Training, Austin Community College (TX)

Organizational Learning and Performance Management: Can We Teach Ourselves?

ROOM 18C • LEADERSHIP AND ORGANIZATIONAL DEVELOPMENT

How do academics teach themselves performance management? How does your college's organizational structure support and strengthen the integration of learning and performance management? How could it be enhanced? Can we truly teach ourselves? Should performance expectations differ for faculty and staff? The presenters share their work creating and implementing a performance management process.

Janice Kinsinger, Associate Dean, Organizational Learning; Marti Bloodsaw, Vice President, Human Resources, Illinois Central College (IL)

Retention and College Completion Initiatives in Higher Education

ROOM 18D • STUDENT SUCCESS

 Hudson County Community College offers Summer and Winter Enrichment and Summer Bridge Programs for developmental students who do not place into College Composition 101 and College Algebra. Participants are introduced to several ways to effectively conduct these programs.

Joseph Caniglia, Instructor, Academic Development and Support Services, Hudson County Community College (NJ)

Developmental Education Reforms at Achieving the Dream Colleges

ROOM 19A • DEVELOPMENTAL AND ADULT EDUCATION

Achieving the Dream and Miami Dade College have gathered best practices in developmental education from seven colleges. Participants review practitioner briefs, discuss lessons learned, and receive guidance about how to implement developmental education transformation strategies on their campuses.

Meredith Hatch, Associate Director, Programs, Achieving the Dream (MD); Lucy Hernandez Michal, Professor, Mathematics, El Paso Community College (TX)

11:15 a.m. – 12:00 p.m.

Breakout Sessions (cont.)

Fulbright Engages Community Colleges

ROOM 19B • DEVELOPING FACULTY AND STAFF

Each year the Fulbright Scholar Program sends close to 1,200 U.S. scholars and professionals to more than 125 countries. Come and discuss how the Fulbright Scholar Program can contribute to faculty development, international collaboration, and international exchange programs, as well as specific opportunities available for community college applicants for the 2015 – 2016 academic year.

Charles Riess, Assistant Director, Outreach, IIE/Council for International Exchange of Scholars (DC)

11:15 a.m. – 12:00 p.m.

Poster Sessions

Poster Sessions are displayed outside Room 18C.

The Puente Project: Maximizing Mentor Accountability for Student Success

POSTER SESSION #1 • STUDENT SUCCESS

The Puente Project is designed to recruit and cultivate community mentors who help students achieve their academic goals. Learn about the mentor program's inception and how the program has helped many students complete college.

Stacy Evans, Mentor Coordinator, Puente Project; Diane Lerma, Club Advisor, Puente Project, Palo Alto College (TX)

Bridging the Skills Gap: Construction Training and Economic Development

POSTER SESSION #2 • ECONOMIC AND WORKFORCE DEVELOPMENT

Discover how—in partnership with community colleges—a comprehensive vocational and educational training program is combined with human services and other organizations to help youth and adults transition to the labor market, while also alleviating skilled-worker shortages in the home building industry.

John Courson, President and CEO, Home Builders Institute (DC)

Developmental Writing: Evaluation Rubrics as Teaching Tools and Safety Nets

POSTER SESSION #3 • DEVELOPMENTAL AND ADULT EDUCATION

Instructors can reinforce developmental students' confidence, as well as their understanding and application of composition skills at the point of use by employing rubrics as assignment elements and grading tools. Explore the rationale for using rubrics and how to create valid rubrics.

Vickie Ashby, Lead Instructor, Developmental Writing, Oklahoma State University-Oklahoma City (OK)

A New Technology-Based Algebra Curriculum for Non-STEM Students

POSTER SESSION #4 • TEACHING AND LEARNING

The current symbol-manipulation-obsessed algebra curriculum is failing non-STEM students. Explore the idea of replacing it with a new, technology-based curriculum that emphasizes what algebra is and can do.

Denny Burzynski, Instructor, Mathematics, College of Southern Nevada (NV); Wade Ellis, Instructor (Retired), West Valley College (CA)

Using a Powerful Online Curriculum to Increase Student Retention

POSTER SESSION #5 • STUDENT SUCCESS

Learn how to implement an online freshman seminar course based on a robust interactive curriculum that results in increased student performance, satisfaction, and persistence.

Alyse Jones, Associate Professor, English, Georgia Perimeter College (GA)

Creating Classroom Community to Enhance Student Success

POSTER SESSION #6 • TEACHING AND LEARNING

Explore the importance of creating classroom community at the postsecondary level, the impact that classroom community has on student success, and ways to create and sustain classroom community.

Sara Neeves, Faculty, Sociology and Psychology, Davidson County Community College (NC)

Leadership Skills Needed for Educating a Nation

FOUR SEASONS HOTEL, SAN JACINTO BALLROOM

The income-based and cultural polarization in America today is, in reality, an education-based polarization. To reach a healthier future, our leadership—especially leadership in higher education—must give more effective thought and action to the problems of educating a whole population. This presentation focuses on leadership habits and skills that are of particular value as higher education grapples with these challenges. Sharpen your leadership skills during this invitation-only session that incorporates the kind of lunch experience only the Four Seasons Hotel Austin can deliver.

Larry Faulkner, President Emeritus, The University of Texas at Austin (TX)

12:00 – 1:00 p.m.

Lunch on Your Own

Stop by the Austin Convention and Visitors Center table located near registration on Level 4 to find out about some great places to eat in the downtown area.

CALLING ALL PRESENTERS!

Would you like to share your ideas beyond the conference? Consider writing an Innovation Abstracts, NISOD's flagship teaching and learning publication. Innovation Abstracts is written by practitioners, for practitioners, in community colleges, colleges, and universities around the world.

In any year, a full academic year's collection of Abstracts features a wide array of teaching and learning topics. Although individual issues are written from the perspective of a specific discipline or program, authors often include some flavor of the versatility of the strategies they describe.

Special Session

Community College Policy Summit 2013: Summary of Student Financial Aid Issues and Recommendations

ROOM 17A

The TG Center for Community Colleges hosted policy convenings to develop recommendations useful for informing emerging policy discussions. Financial aid practitioners, community college administrators, national policy experts, and other stakeholders engaged in these discussions. To contextualize the discussions, representatives from the American Association of Community Colleges, the U.S. Department of Education, and Achieving the Dream provided national perspectives. The session facilitators share the resulting recommendations that policymakers should consider regarding the reauthorization of the Higher Education Act and other measures affecting student success at community colleges.

Jacob Fraire, Vice President, Student and Institutional Success; Donna Boutwell, Director, TG Center for Community Colleges; Harold Whitis, District Director, Student Financial Services, Alamo Colleges (TX)

Going Textbook-Less in an Integrated Reading and Writing Classroom

ROOM 13B • DEVELOPMENTAL AND ADULT EDUCATION

Explore the outcomes of an integrated developmental reading and writing classroom that uses no textbooks. Examples of students' work highlight critical-thinking skills and student engagement, as well as learning goals and expected outcomes. Participants brainstorm ideas that can immediately be used in their classrooms.

Nancy McKenzie, Assistant Professor, Reading; Michael Wright, Assistant Professor, Reading, Tarrant County College South (TX)

Everyday Leadership Based on the Five Practices of Exemplary Leadership

ROOM 14 • TEACHING AND LEARNING

Why is setting an example for your students and colleagues so important? How can you get your colleagues to jump on the bandwagon? Explore classroom and committee leadership practices and learn how you can use everyday leadership fundamentals to sharpen your leadership skills in and out of the classroom.

Nancy Ray-Mitchell, Professor, Management; Liz Mitchell, Assistant Professor, Biology, McLennan Community College (TX)

A Learning Emporium: Building Student Success From the Ground Up!

ROOM 16A • TEACHING AND LEARNING

Broad engagement to redesign developmental mathematics courses requires multiple steps. Learn how a high-tech, high-touch math emporium was designed to accelerate, modularize, and support the teaching and learning of mathematics.

Lucy Michal, Professor, Mathematics; Steve Smith, Interim Vice President, Instruction, El Paso Community College (TX)

Infusing Local History and Culture Into Teaching Introductory Sociology

ROOM 16B • TEACHING AND LEARNING

Learn about a model for teaching an introductory sociology course that was designed to infuse the history and culture of the local community with culturally relevant pedagogies and practices. The unique partnership between faculty teaching an introductory sociology course and the Boston Museum of African American History is also discussed.

Aurora Bautista, Professor, Sociology; John Reeves, Professor, Psychology, Bunker Hill Community College (MA)

Value of Knowledge

ROOM 17B • DEVELOPING FACULTY AND STAFF

Students should have a wealth of knowledge in a chosen area and be open to new learning environments. Successful educational institutions know how knowledge is transferred between faculty members to enrich the learning environment of students. The presenters introduce the concept of knowledge transfer and lead a discussion about how this knowledge enriches the student experience.

Sheree Rincon, Associate Faculty, Business and General Education; Charlotte Newman, Associate Faculty, Business and General Education, University of Phoenix (AZ)

1:00 – 1:45 p.m.

Breakout Sessions

Making SENSE of Student Experiences to Enhance New Student Orientation

ROOM 12B • CULTURE OF EVIDENCE

The presenters share how to translate Survey of Entering Student Engagement (SENSE) data into action using cross-departmental summits that bring together student services staff and faculty who contribute to new student orientation, advising, and communication. Learn how to use SENSE data to promote action and continuous improvement and how to host your own SENSE Summit to engage in cross-departmental, data-driven decision making.

Emily Wood, Director, Center for Engagement and Learning; Thomas Broxson, Dean, Natural Sciences, Pierce College (WA)

What I Wish I Had Known

ROOM 13A • STUDENT SUCCESS

Learn the necessary steps to incorporate Student Ambassadors into the Advising and First-Year Experience Program to increase students' awareness of critical aspects of college life. Participants discuss how to establish the program; recruit volunteers; manage peer-to-peer interactions; and find answers to questions students have about counseling, advising, and college in general.

Dana Baker, Professor and Counselor, Montgomery College (MD)

1:00 – 1:45 p.m.

Breakout Sessions (cont.)

Modifying Active and Collaborative Learning: Hands-On in Science Class

ROOM 18A • TEACHING AND LEARNING

Learn tips and tricks for successfully engaging students by developing active and collaborative learning activities in science classrooms. Participants engage in a variety of topics, models, and tools; learn best practices for forming, molding, and nurturing collaborative groups; and identify some of the common pitfalls of implementing active and collaborative learning activities.

Stamatis Muratidis, Assistant Professor, Chemistry, Palo Alto College (TX)

Increasing Faculty Access to Instructional Technology and Support

ROOM 18B • EDUCATIONAL TECHNOLOGY

Effective instruction can be enhanced through a quality partnership with the IT department. Learn about a model for infusing new technology into instructors' environments with a focus on changing the dynamic relationship between instruction and IT. Hear examples of how both sides need to work together.

Charles Perkins, Dean, Information Services; Brenda Moreno, Project Manager, Technology, Barton Community College (KS)

Using Abode Connect for Virtual Office Hours

ROOM 18C • EDUCATIONAL TECHNOLOGY

Daytona State College offers virtual office hours via Abode Connect, which allows students who are unable to attend traditional office hours to interact with their instructor in the evenings and weekends. This presentation focuses on the best practices developed over the last several years to reach students who are unable to attend traditional office hours.

Jeffrey Zahnen, Professor, Mathematics; Gabriele Booth, Associate Professor, Mathematics, Daytona State College (FL)

Using Diversity to Increase Engagement: Defining a Common Goal

ROOM 18D • STUDENT SUCCESS

Discover a process to unite a diverse college community to reach one common goal—student achievement! Participants define engagement through a community college lens, explore why engagement leads to greater student retention and completion, answer why they work in higher education, and consider how their position contributes to their college's mission.

Amy Warren, Team Member, Achieving the Dream Core; Greg Brazell, Dean, Business and Social Sciences, Pierce College (WA)

Ten Mistakes Tutoring Makes and Ten Wrong Assumptions Faculty Make

ROOM 19A • STUDENT SUCCESS

This session questions your assumptions about tutoring and rethinks the faculty-tutoring relationship by brainstorming the top 10 mistakes and assumptions for tutoring and faculty, respectively. After developing their own lists, participants consider the presenters' lists and discuss ways faculty and tutoring services can communicate better and work together toward student success.

Shellie Keller, Manager, Tutorial Services and Learning Center; Jet Mitchell, Professor, Business Administration, College of Southern Nevada (NV)

Achieving the Dream Information Session

ROOM 19B • LEADERSHIP AND ORGANIZATIONAL DEVELOPMENT

Learn how the Achieving the Dream (ATD) National Reform Network is helping 3.75 million community college students realize greater economic opportunity. ATD staff and representatives from Leader Colleges discuss how to increase student success and how other colleges can join the effort.

Meredith Hatch, Associate Director, Programs, Achieving the Dream (MD); Kimberly A. Beatty, Associate Vice Chancellor, Student Success, Tarrant County College District (TX); Lydia Tena, Dean, Northwest Campus, El Paso Community College (TX); Maria Perez Straus, Director, Instructional Initiatives, Houston Community College (TX)

1:00 – 1:45 p.m.

Roundtable Discussions

Roundtable Discussions are held in Room 15.

Mapping the Millennial

ROUNDTABLE DISCUSSION #1 • TEACHING AND LEARNING

A description and core characteristics of millennial student learners, strategies that can be used to reach these students effectively and maintain their attention, and techniques and ideas that will adapt current classrooms for millennial learners are discussed.

Stuart Lenig, Coordinator, Humanities, Columbia State Community College (TN)

Validating the New Texas Success Initiative Placement Scores

ROUNDTABLE DISCUSSION #2 • CULTURE OF EVIDENCE

Discuss ways to build a local culture of evidence around student success in math and English. Learn how placement scores are evaluated as predictors of course success and how educators can use validation to improve learning outcomes.

Gary Greer, Assistant Dean, Advising and Mentoring, University of Houston—Downtown (TX)

Theory and Practice: Using Humanities as a Vehicle for Disciplinary Literacy

ROUNDTABLE DISCUSSION #3 • TEACHING AND LEARNING

Participants are introduced to the concept of disciplinary knowledge and how the humanities can be used to emphasize and connect their specialized knowledge of the language, culture, and scholarship within students' fields of study.

Kim Jackson, Associate Professor, Humanities and Dance, Tarrant County College-Northwest Campus (TX)

Split Personalities

ROUNDTABLE DISCUSSION #4 • DEVELOPING FACULTY AND STAFF

Is it possible to remain current in your field while serving in time-consuming faculty leadership roles? Participants discuss how the facilitator has time to read journals, participate in discipline-specific conferences, and keep current in the political science field.

Brian Kupfer, Associate Professor, Political Science and Chair, Faculty Senate, Tallahassee Community College (FL)

Learning Together: Insights and Inquiries From Student Success and Action Analytics Initiatives

ROOM 17A • STUDENT SUCCESS

Community colleges are working together on a host of student success initiatives from Completion by Design to Achieving the Dream to state-specific college completion programs. Regardless of the initiative, institutional leaders are having to come together to learn more about how to best use student data, advanced analytics, and front-line apps to shine a light on today's journey and significantly improve the travel on the road ahead. This session is a timely dialogue about the very important lessons we're learning together about this exciting work.

Mark Milliron, Chief Learning Officer; and Laura Malcolm, Vice President, Product, Civitas Learning (TX); Richard Rhodes, President and CEO, Austin Community College (TX); William Serrata, President, El Paso Community College (TX)

3:00 – 3:45 p.m.

Breakout Sessions

Meeting the Challenges of Hiring and Training Adjunct Faculty

ROOM 12B • DEVELOPING FACULTY AND STAFF

Learn the hiring strategies and training program developed to deal effectively with a department that has over 90 percent of its courses taught by adjunct instructors. This strategy includes hiring practices, required training, opportunities to collaborate with other departments, and strategies for making adjunct instructors feel valued.

Julie Engel, Director, Counseling, Advising, and Student Development; Dehlia Wallis, Assistant Professor, Student Development, San Antonio College (TX)

Success in Transition From Two-Year to Four-Year College

ROOM 13A • STUDENT SUCCESS

This session focuses on two main parts of the transfer process—the degree worksheet and transfer credit articulation, both of which transfer coaches and counselors should be able to use effectively with transferring students to demonstrate credit articulation. Create a degree worksheet and credit articulation model to take back and use with your transfer students.

Gary Greer, Assistant Dean, Advising and Mentoring, University of Houston-Downtown (TX)

The Psychology of Active Learning: From Theories to Strategies

ROOM 13B • TEACHING AND LEARNING

Compare the definition of active learning from the generalist approach to higher education—focusing on the activity level of observable behaviors—and the specific approach of psychology—focusing on activity occurring within individual minds. Engage in simulated psychology experiences to understand the theories supporting an active-learning approach to teaching, and explore ways to incorporate cognitive active-learning strategies into your instruction.

Suzanne Swiderski, Assistant Professor, English, University of Wisconsin-Parkside (WI)

A Year in the Trenches With Total Open Educational Resources

ROOM 14 • TEACHING AND LEARNING

Scottsdale Community College uses only open educational resources for all math classes through pre-calculus. Hear our story and learn from our mistakes and successes.

Phil Clark, Faculty, Mathematics, Scottsdale Community College (AZ)

Revamp Your Distance Learning Courses

ROOM 16A • TEACHING AND LEARNING

Learn strategies to improve student engagement and retention. The presenter shares his distance learning courses and reviews successful Massive Open Online Courses. Participants leave this session with new strategies and techniques to implement in their online courses.

Charles DeSassure, Assistant Professor, Computer Science, Tarrant County College-Southeast Campus (TX)

Ties That Bind: Implementing Instructional Strategies for Professional Development

ROOM 16B • TEACHING AND LEARNING

AVID for Higher Education (AHE) partners with institutions of higher education to systemically address the goals of increased learning, persistence, completion, and success in and beyond college. Participants interact with panelists to explore the impact of AHE in transforming instruction and enhancing the culture of student success on technical and community college campuses.

Evelyn Hiatt, Project Manager, AVID for Higher Education (TX); Deana Guido, Dean, Learning Resources and Senior Librarian, Nash Community College (NC); Rachel Juarez-Torres, Associate Dean, Career, Workforce, and Technical Education, Odessa College (TX); Richard Kirk, Associate Professor, Social and Behavioral Science, Texas State Technical College-Harlingen (TX)

Culture and Poverty: Key Challenges Impacting Minority Males Success

ROOM 17B • DIVERSITY AND INCLUSION

Minority male community college success factors extend beyond traditional tutoring, transportation, and study skills. Family dynamics, cultural indoctrination, economic status, self-concept, and other factors also play a major role in acclimation and success. This session reframes preconception into lessons learned about community college minority males' personal, cultural, and environmental stressors.

Ervin Griffin, Sr., President and CEO; Daniel Lovett, Director, Grants and Research, Halifax Community College (NC)

Classroom Makeovers

ROOM 18A • DEVELOPING FACULTY AND STAFF

Learn how to make over your classroom through collaboration and case studies. After discussing fictional observations, participants discuss how they would make over a classroom, discuss what the instructor is doing well, and offer recommendations for professional development and other activities.

Jimmy Cheffen, Coordinator, Part-Time Faculty, Madison Area Technical College (WI)

Classroom Technology for Dummies: Simple Ideas for Integrating Technology

ROOM 18B • EDUCATIONAL TECHNOLOGY

Discover dynamic content that can be added to online and face-to-face lectures to enhance learning, including online content, mobile applications, presentation software, and video and audio additions. Participants engage in hands-on activities using Twitter, Facebook, and other applications on their mobile devices.

Jacqueline Donovan, Assistant Professor, Business and Office Careers, Broward College (FL)

Honoring Shared Governance in a Sea of Tumultuous Change

ROOM 18C • LEADERSHIP AND ORGANIZATIONAL DEVELOPMENT

Help identify the top three barriers to institutional change and explore the external and internal pressures causing changes—e.g., the completion agenda, assessment demands, dwindling funding, developmental education, and concerns regarding shared governance and administrative responsibility.

Erika Hackman, Director, Center for Excellence in Teaching and Learning; Paul Sarantakos, Chair, Social Sciences and Human Services, Parkland College (IL)

Getting Connected With First-Year Learning Communities:

Consider the Possibilities

ROOM 18D • STUDENT SUCCESS

Explore what a learning community is and brainstorm its short- and long-term benefits. The presenters share research and data supporting the use of learning communities, as well as a variety of skills and strategies that can be used as is or modified and adapted to build learning communities.

Don King, Instructor and Advisor, Associate in General Education; Dana Parker, Chair, Associate in General Education, Pitt Community College (NC)

Veteran Student Success: High-Impact Interventions That Work

ROOM 19A • STUDENT SUCCESS

This session provides a comprehensive set of resources to support veteran students' transitions to higher education and increase their enrollment, persistence, and completion. Participants are provided with essential program elements and outcomes and a work plan that helps bring these interventions back to their campuses.

Jennifer Cooke, Manager, Retention and Transition Success, Pierce College Fort Steilacoom (WA)

Retain More Students Through an Academic Customer Service Campus Culture

ROOM 19B • STUDENT SUCCESS

Studies show that up to 76 percent of student attrition can be attributed to what students perceive to be poor academic customer service.

Explore what excellent academic customer service is and how to create a culture of excellence.

Neal Raisman, President, N. Raisman and Associates (OH)

3:00 – 3:45 p.m.

Roundtable Discussions

Servant-Minded Educational Leader: The ABCs and 123s of Leading Faculty

ROOM 12B • DEVELOPING FACULTY AND STAFF

Servant-minded educational leadership dynamically impacts the classroom by realizing the potential of faculty and enlisting their expertise. Explore how to foster effective leader-faculty relationships to augment student success. Participants discover how to cultivate faculty members' talents to impact teaching and learning, encourage participation and productivity, and create an environment in which faculty members feel their work is rewarding and appreciated.

Randy Snyder, Chair, Fine Arts, San Jacinto College (TX)

Community College Global Leadership, Competence, and Engagement

ROOM 13B • TEACHING AND LEARNING

American educators must prepare students and their communities for a global environment in which they will live and work. Community colleges, especially, play a vital role in this globalization effort. Learn strategies and recommendations for enhancing the global competence and engagement of college students.

Rodney Ellis, Texas State Senator, District 13; Ibrahim Al Naimi, President, Community College of Qatar (Qatar); William Carter, Vice Chancellor, Information Technology; Butch Herod, Executive Dean, Academics; Gigi Do, Executive Director, International Initiatives; Houston Community College (TX); William Hayden, Director, International Programs; Dorado Kinney, Dean, Student Services, Austin Community College (TX)

Effectively Managing Millennials to Maximize Their Motivation and Engagement

ROOM 14 • DIVERSITY AND INCLUSION

Emerging generations have caused tremendous disruption and necessitated social-system revamping. Learn five facts about Millennials' upbringings that shape their psychology, strengths Millennials bring to the classroom and to the workforce, and analyze three classroom strategies that engage and motivate Millennial students.

Matthew Ratz, Adjunct Professor, English Composition, Montgomery College (MD)

Embracing Crucial Conversations

ROOM 16A • LEADERSHIP AND ORGANIZATIONAL DEVELOPMENT

Professionals whose careers include supervision, conflict management, and coaching regularly deal with situations that test their interpersonal skills. Participants discuss difficult conversations and identify gaps between what managers assume will happen and what actually happens. The presenters provide tools for managing conflict that participants can immediately put into practice.

Joyce Walsh-Portillo, Associate Vice President, Academic Affairs; Patricia Senior, Associate Vice President, Professional Training and Development, Broward College (FL)

Exploring One's Cultural Identity With the Power of the Pen

ROOM 16B • TEACHING AND LEARNING

Learn how engaging in writing ethnic autobiographies can empower students to discover their distinctive cultural voices as they gain a better understanding of how double consciousness permeates all of our existences. Participants engage in free writing their own ethnic autobiographies. Copies of a journal that will help them implement the knowledge learned into their classrooms are distributed.

Bea Gyimah, Assistant Professor, English, Baton Rouge Community College (LA)

Faculty Training in the Cloud: Easy, Easy, Easy!

ROOM 17B • DEVELOPING FACULTY AND STAFF

Have you considered multi-purposing your software? We used SoftChalk Cloud to create training for over 3,000 faculty members. It was easy to create and easy to use. The presenters use a SoftChalk lesson as a slide show as they explain how they quickly developed training for a new e-syllabus software package that could be easily accessed by faculty and administrators. They also describe the benefits and a few disadvantages of using software for alternative uses.

Tracey DeLillo, Instructional Technology Specialist, Alamo Colleges (TX); Laura Lawrence, Director, Instructional and Professional Development, Northwest Vista College (TX)

4:00 – 4:45 p.m.

Breakout Sessions (cont.)

All-Service Mentoring for New, Tenured, and Adjunct Faculty

ROOM 18A • TEACHING AND LEARNING

Take home ideas about a program in which all new and some adjunct faculty are mentored and in which tenured faculty mentor each other. The presenters, an administrator and three members of a committee that oversees the mentoring program, lead a discussion about why decisions were made, what has and has not worked, and the changes that are planned.

Julie Gibb, Vice President, Academic Services; Norm Burdick, Professor, English and Speech; Gary Douglas, Assistant Professor, Sociology; Lisa Walker, Assistant Professor, Art, Carl Sandburg College (IL)

Take a critical-thinking dispositions test, score the test, and learn its meaning. Learn about scholarship that demonstrates a correlation between the disposition to think critically, academic performance, and success in life. Finally, learn how to design discipline-specific tasks that teach students how to incorporate critical thinking into their daily lives.

John Eigenauer, Professor, Philosophy, Taft College (CA)

General Chemistry Teaching Strategies

ROOM 16A • TEACHING AND LEARNING

Learn various concepts that help make general chemistry more teachable and learnable. Demonstrations include "Simple Math Approach to the Periodic Table," "Moleville—The mole concept and chemical calculations," "Hund's Rule—Strangers entering a bus," "Nonbonding pairs are larger than bonding pairs," and "The VSEPR Theory—The mother-in-law effect."

Charles A. Heller, Professor, Chemistry, Blinn College (TX)

Engage Them If You Want Them to Learn and Succeed

ROOM 16B • TEACHING AND LEARNING

Discover technology-based instructional methods and strategies that increase students' learning and success by involving adjunct faculty, motivating and engaging developmental mathematics students, effectively using learning management systems, and employing classroom response systems.

Kaddour Boukaabar, Professor, Math, Computer Science, and Information Systems, California University of Pennsylvania (PA)

Collaboration Through Social Media

ROOM 17B • EDUCATIONAL TECHNOLOGY

Learn how to use social media to create a cohort group that works together to succeed in the course. Discover what has and hasn't worked; how to use Tegrity and PowerPoints with voice over, and the success that these have had with EAL and ESL students; and the legalities associated with using social media.

Sue Smith, Associate Professor, Nursing Education, Iowa Western Community College (IA)

Master Disaster Before It Impacts Student Success

ROOM 18A • DEVELOPING FACULTY AND STAFF

When fire consumed our TV studio, we faced insurance and criminal investigations, full classes, limited equipment, and no building. Come explore a case study of how student learning continued in an equipment- and facility-intensive technical program after a fire. Hear insights into what does and does not work when getting things back to normal following a fire.

Jerry Zumwalt, Assistant Professor, Radio, Television, Film; Adrian Neely, Instructor, Radio, Television, Film; Richard Neece, Instructional Associate, Radio and TV Broadcasting; Lisa Benedetti, Dean, Humanities and Communications; Callie Sprabary, Administrative Assistant, Humanities, Tarrant County College (TX)

From an Institution in Transition to an Institution in Forward Motion

ROOM 18B • LEADERSHIP AND ORGANIZATIONAL DEVELOPMENT

In its 2002 self-study report, the Community College of Beaver County described itself as moving away from traditional patterns of unsuccessful governance and undefined and under-measured concepts of student success and towards higher education steeped in leadership at all levels and outcomes-based learning pathways. Learn about problems encountered by the college and explore how you would address those issues.

Katie Thomas, Associate Professor, English; Carl Dennis, Associate Professor, Technologies; Melissa Denardo, Vice President and Provost, Learning and Student Success, Community College of Beaver County (PA)

2:15 – 3:00 p.m.

Breakout Sessions (cont.)

Searching About the Past: Information Literacy in the History Classroom

ROOM 18C • TEACHING AND LEARNING

Mention teaching history and images of Ferris Bueller's Day Off may come to mind. How do we engage students studying history while at the same time developing critical information literacy skills? This presentation highlights a few of the creative and effective research project techniques we use, as well as what did and did not work.

Carol Chenoweth, Faculty Librarian; Mark Goldman, Professor, History, Tallahassee Community College (FL)

Using Technology to Promote Successful Transfer

ROOM 18D • EDUCATIONAL TECHNOLOGY

Backed by the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation and Facebook, learn how Transfer Bootcamp's free community college transfer technology can be used to dramatically simplify the transfer process.

Diane Melville, Founder, Transfer Bootcamp (TX)

Supporting Affective Learning Strategies for Nursing Student Success

ROOM 19A • TEACHING AND LEARNING

Explores generational influences on affective learning and participate in a learning-style questionnaire and hands-on activities that include music, video clips, and role-playing and simulation experiences.

Rhonda Payne, Chair, Nursing, Bainbridge State College (GA)

2:15 – 3:00 p.m.

Roundtable Discussions

Roundtable Discussions are held in Room 15.

Getting the Most Out of Your Lecture Time

ROUNDTABLE DISCUSSION #1 • DEVELOPING FACULTY AND STAFF

Explore how brain-based learning and Universal Design for Learning create classrooms that reach all learning styles. Learn techniques for student engagement, retention, and response strategies that provide instructors with immediate feedback about student learning.

Yvette Dodson, Adjunct Instructor, Education, College of Southern Maryland (MD)

Returning to Learning

ROUNDTABLE DISCUSSION #2 • STUDENT SUCCESS

Participants discuss the barriers that mature learners face when transitioning into postsecondary education and examine strategies for how your institution can help. Hear directly from students and staff about strategies that have a positive impact on mature learners.

Michele McManus, Professor and Coordinator, Broadcasting TV Program; Lisa Jack, Library Public Service Officer, Confederation College (ON)

Engage Your Core: An All-Employee Teaching and Learning Center

ROUNDTABLE DISCUSSION #3 • DEVELOPING FACULTY AND STAFF

How do you build a professional development center to support all employees who support students? Explore emerging and inclusive models for engagement-focused professional development programs, and share your own ideas.

Emily Wood, Director, Center for Engagement and Learning, Pierce College (WA)

3:15 – 4:00 p.m.

Special Session

Motivating and Engaging Students Using the Brain's Reward Pathway

ROOM 17A • STUDENT SUCCESS

Activating the reward pathway in the brain releases feel-good chemicals such as dopamine, which causes behaviors to be reinforced and continued.

Activation of the reward pathway also increases motivation and engagement. Come and see brain scans that show what academic behaviors activate the reward pathway in the brain and what activities reduce it. Also learn about the simple task that raises achievement more than additional study time. Participate in this session and leave with strategies for motivating and engaging diverse learners.

Janet Zadina, Assistant Professor, Tulane University School of Medicine (LA)

3:15 – 4:00 p.m.

Breakout Sessions

Contextualized Learning: Helping Students "Get It"

ROOM 13A • TEACHING AND LEARNING

Nursing and allied health programs demand that students learn massive amounts of material and demonstrate the ability to apply it critically. Contextualized learning helps fill that bill by differentiating instruction to accommodate all learning styles—i.e., auditory, visual, aural, and kinesthetic tactile.

Magdalena Handy, Faculty, Patient Care; Sharon Rice, Chair, Patient Care, South Texas College (TX)

Creating a Diverse Community on a College Campus Through Mentoring

ROOM 13B • DIVERSITY AND INCLUSION

Lehigh Carbon Community College (LCCC) has partnered with the Parkland School District to have special education students attend LCCC on a weekly basis. LCCC students serve as mentors to these students. The presentation focuses on creating and maintaining the program along with how the college and special education students benefit from it.

Joseph Davis, Associate Professor, Special Education, Lehigh Carbon Community College (PA)

Active and Accelerated Teaching Methods: Enhancing Student Achievement

ROOM 14 • TEACHING AND LEARNING

Active and engaged learners are more likely to master key concepts in your course than learners who passively receive information. Participants become acquainted with this certification course, experience some of the active and accelerated learning strategies, and learn about resources that support the course.

Kathy Jochman, Instructor, Accelerated Learning Fellow, Facilitator Certification Course, Madison College (WI)

3:15 – 4:00 p.m.

Breakout Sessions (cont.)

Eureka! Increasing STEM Success by Student-Led Experimentation

ROOM 16A • TEACHING AND LEARNING

New initiatives in biology education suggest that students become more scientifically competent via experimental research. An experimental biology course was designed to increase student engagement and ultimately student success. Participants act as students using the classroom response system, and MyMathLab's course coordinator feature is demonstrated.

Kristin Byrd, Professor, Biology, Tarrant County College (TX)

Perennials to Millennials: Educating the Next Generation

ROOM 16B • TEACHING AND LEARNING

The Millennial learning environment touts educational technology as a panacea to current educational issues. Explore whether the Millennial approach has lived up to the expectations of its original intent in liberal arts, vocational education, and job-related programs. The goal is not only to discuss the problem, but also to find creative solutions.

Stewart Barr, Adjunct Faculty, Humanities; Anthony Pitucco, Adjunct Faculty, Philosophy; Susan Deering, Faculty, Nursing; Charles Barr, Faculty and Chair, Automotive, Pikes Pike Community College (CO)

Supporting Underprepared and At-Risk Students in Career Pathways Programs

ROOM 17B • DEVELOPMENTAL AND ADULT EDUCATION

Adult Basic Skills and pre-college students are not exempt from earning stackable credentials. The presenters provide a brief overview of a career pathway program, its student demographics, and its success rate. Additional activities that help increase self-awareness and self-confidence and strengthen reading, writing, and presentation skills as well as lessons learned are discussed.

Laura Horani, Chair and Instructor, English for Speakers of Other Languages; Catherine Thomas, Instructor, English for Speakers of Other Languages, Portland Community College-SE Center (OR)

Breaching the STEM Barrier: Scientific Research for Two-Year College Students

ROOM 18A • STUDENT SUCCESS

Connecting with students and introducing student success services on campus during the first days of a new term is incredibly important to ensuring that students complete their courses. The presenters describe the vision that led to creating multiple college connection events. Participants consider student feedback, discuss connection efforts, and the results they experienced.

Brenda Stotesbery, Assistant Professor, Mathematics; Cathleen Rossman, Assistant Professor, Mathematics; Clarence Johnson, Professor, Mathematics, Cuyahoga Community College (OH)

Executive Leadership Institute: Building, Maintaining, and Growing!

ROOM 18B • LEADERSHIP AND ORGANIZATIONAL DEVELOPMENT

Learn how to build, maintain, and grow an Executive Leadership Institute. Participants are provided with a roadmap that will help create the institute at their institutions.

Vartouhi Asherian, Senior Analyst, E-Learning, College of Southern Nevada (NV)

Circles of Innovation: Reaching Out to Inform, Engage, and Inspire

ROOM 18C • DEVELOPING FACULTY AND STAFF

Each month, interested faculty members gather to mingle, contribute, collaborate, solve problems, and spin new forms of great teaching. The event, affectionately known as Circles, is facilitated by a faculty fellow and often starts with a video, infographic, or other conversation opener designed to introduce the Circles strategies. This session demonstrates a Circle and engages participants through best-teaching strategies.

James May, Faculty Fellow, Innovation and Technology; Wendi Dew, Director, Faculty Development, Valencia College (FL)

Intrusive Advising: Strategies for Success With Underrepresented Populations

ROOM 18D • STUDENT SUCCESS

Learn how the Pathway to the Baccalaureate Program has successfully implemented a case-management, intrusive advising model to increase retention and success. The program's design and practical, implementable, and scalable strategies are discussed.

Alex Coppelman, Counselor, Pathway to the Baccalaureate Program; Amandi Gordon, Advisor, Pathway to the Baccalaureate Program, Northern Virginia Community College (VA)

Some Assembly Required: Online Engagement and the Problem of Authenticity

ROOM 19A • TEACHING AND LEARNING

Kate Orton-Johnson observes that students have highly-defined ideas about what it means to do academic work. She further notes that students' use of blended-learning environment is overwhelmingly task-oriented. This session considers how to alter this paradigm and build online environments where engaged, higher-order thinking occurs. Explore preconceived notions of authenticity in education and consider the pedagogical implications.

Michael Meloy, Instructor, English and Hybrid Fellow, Madison College (WI)

3:15 – 4:00 p.m.

Roundtable Discussions

Roundtable Discussions are held in Room 15.

Yoga Mindfulness (YM) in the Classroom for Student Success

ROUNDTABLE DISCUSSION #1 • DEVELOPING FACULTY AND STAFF

Science clearly shows Yoga Mindfulness (YM) practice is transformational. YM can soothe the body and quiet the mind. Learn the tenants of stress management using YM techniques during this experiential discussion.

Dori DiPietro, Faculty and Director, Social Work Program, Mesa Community College (AZ)

Having Lunch With Hemingway and Hamlet

ROUNDTABLE DISCUSSION #2 • TEACHING AND LEARNING

A core curriculum that includes the classics will prepare a student for life and a career. Learn how literature contains intellectual challenges that prepare scientists and capitalists to be successful and productive contributors to society with meaningful professional lives.

Ludwig Otto, Professor, English, Tarrant County College (TX)

3:15 – 4:00 p.m.

Roundtable Discussions (cont.)

Strategies for Career Pathways Development

ROUNDTABLE DISCUSSION #3 • STUDENT SUCCESS

Explore methods of program development leading to a scaffolding of competencies. Program pathways are provided as examples of how career opportunities and degree advancement can exist at various tiers of academic progress.

Dave Thompson, Chair, STEM, West Virginia University at Parkersburg (WV)

3:15 – 4:45 p.m. Dinner and Jam Session Dance Lessons

HILTON AUSTIN, GRAND BALLROOM, LEVEL 6

You don't need a partner to enjoy Groove Labs during the Tuesday evening Jam Session. Learn a few quick and easy line dances that will get you on the dance floor and having a great time in no time. Don't miss this opportunity to meet new people, get some exercise, and learn how to line dance all at the same time!

Nancy Ray-Mitchell, Professor, Management, McLennan Community College (TX); Penny Quinn, Vice President, Instruction and Student Services, Barton Community College (KS)

4:15 – 5:00 p.m.

Breakout Sessions

Bridging the Gap Between Policy and Practice: The Catch the Next-Puente Pathway

ROOM 12B • DEVELOPMENTAL AND ADULT EDUCATION

The Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board has a strategy to close the achievement gap and accelerate exit out of developmental education for the 70 percent of Texas community college students whose test scores deem them as not ready to take credit courses. Session participants discuss policy and practice issues related to integrating reading and writing policies to accelerate students' exit out of developmental education.

Maria Chavez, Chief Education Officer, Catch the Next, Inc. (NY); Diane Lerma, Instructor, Reading, Palo Alto College (TX); Virginia Allegra Villareal, Professor, English, South Texas College (TX)

A Comprehensive Retention Plan at an Urban, Multi-Campus Institution

ROOM 18D • STUDENT SUCCESS

Learn how Tarrant County College, a multi-campus and urban institution, administered the development phase in a comprehensive retention plan. Explore how students' needs were defined, who served on the retention committee, and the college's retention and persistence goals. Teaching and learning, student engagement, and advising and counseling services are also discussed, as are how each plays a part in developing a comprehensive retention plan.

Kimberly Beatty, Associate Vice Chancellor, Student Success; Tara Reed, Assistant Professor, Speech, Tarrant County College (TX)

Summer Academy for College Success

ROOM 13B • STUDENT SUCCESS

Discover how counseling faculty members developed an innovative, intensive two-week summer course that offers a head start to new high school graduates who tested into developmental math and English courses. Learn the challenges and surprises encountered along the way and engage participants in dialogue and brainstorming regarding the most pertinent information for this growing college population.

Jennifer Hrovat, Counselor and Assistant Professor; David Melnick, Counselor and Assistant Professor; Terry Webb, Counselor and Assistant Professor, Cuyahoga Community College (OH)

Improving Student Retention By Using Predictive Modeling

ROOM 14 • STUDENT SUCCESS

Harper College and Dell developed a student retention model that quickly identifies students at risk and delivers critical information to key stakeholders, which allows for an early intervention that increases student performance outcomes. During this casual question and answer format, panelists discuss using predictive modeling to improve student retention at Harper College, including the challenges addressed, the scope of the project, the research methodology, and the data used to solve the college's student retention issues.

Sheila Quirk, Chief of Staff and Vice President, Planning and Institutional Effectiveness; Patrick Bauer, Chief Information Officer, Harper College (IL); Jon Phillips, Managing Director, Worldwide Education, Dell (TX)

4:15 – 5:00 p.m.

Special Session

New Federal Research Center May Enhance Current Understanding of Developmental Education

ROOM 17A • DEVELOPMENTAL AND ADULT EDUCATION

The Department of Education estimates that 42 percent of entering community college students were not sufficiently prepared for college-level courses and enrolled in at least one developmental education course. Researchers also report that fewer than 25 percent of developmental education students complete a degree or certificate in eight years. The President has set a national goal of increasing the number of community college graduates by five million by the year 2020, which likely cannot be accomplished without improving developmental education outcomes. To address these objectives, site visits conducted in Texas, Virginia, and Washington identified these states as having initiated innovative changes in their developmental education coursework. Officials from 10 community colleges and representatives from each state's education office were interviewed to determine what strategies were used to improve developmental education and what challenges, if any, community colleges have identified while implementing these strategies.

Anjali Tekchandani, Senior Policy Analyst, Education, Workforce, and Income Security, U.S. Government Accountability Office (DC)

4:15 – 5:00 p.m.

Breakout Sessions (cont.)

What's Hope Have to Do With It?

ROOM 16A • TEACHING AND LEARNING

Hope and positive psychology are common buzzwords in popular culture, but can they be used to help predict student success, specifically with non-traditional students in a gateway biology course? Learn how an unlikely team of instructors combined forces to tackle success issues in a gateway biology course using the Hope Scale and innovative instructional methods.

Elizabeth Kline, Instructor, Biology and Environmental Technologies; Kara Fell, Instructor, Reading and Study Skills, Zane State College (OH)

Blended-Learning Environment: Facilitating the Optimum Hybrid Classroom

ROOM 16B • TEACHING AND LEARNING

Today's learning environment can be as diverse as the students we facilitate. This presentation examines some of the best practices for designing and facilitating hybrid courses. Come discover creative and engaging instructional resources to ensure optimum student success.

Sharon Silverman, Chair and Librarian, Olive-Harvey College (IL); Reginah Walton, Chair and Faculty, Speech and Fine Arts, Malcolm X College (IL)

Positioning ESL Students for College Readiness

ROOM 17B • DEVELOPMENTAL AND ADULT EDUCATION

The point at which a concept is understood is the point of transfer that strengthens language acquisition. This presentation includes activities that strengthen concept transfer points using reading and writing skills that prepare ESL students for credit courses. Technology-enhanced activities and co-enrollment in credit courses are also discussed as ways to provide a robust language learning environment.

Myshie Pagel, Professor, English as a Second Language; Roselia Galindo, Faculty, Reading and English as a Second Language, El Paso Community College (TX)

Not Just Card Catalogs: College Libraries and Career Readiness

ROOM 18A • ECONOMIC AND WORKFORCE DEVELOPMENT

In response to the new Texas Statewide Developmental Education Plan, the North Lake College Library developed a method to incorporate the necessary career readiness elements required by institutions to address first-time-in-college students. Learn how to ensure that students and families have an early and ongoing understanding of the postsecondary options that best fit with their aspirations and interests.

Kent Seaver, Director, Learning Resources, North Lake College (TX)

Embedded Community Colleges: Strategic Success Amid Decreasing Budgets

ROOM 18B • LEADERSHIP AND ORGANIZATIONAL DEVELOPMENT

Learn how community colleges can remain innovative and strategic despite significant state allocation reductions. A recent empirical multisite case study of three community colleges and their responses to reduced financial resources, all while attempting to achieve innovation and strategic success, is shared.

Clyne Namuo, Chair, Computer Information Systems, Cochise College (AZ)

Curriculum+Collaboration+Community = A Formula for Student Success

ROOM 18C • TEACHING AND LEARNING

Discover best practices that ultimately lead to positive learning outcomes that can be achieved in and out of the classroom. Innovative teaching and learning strategies that have been implemented on our campus and in our community are introduced, and student success stories are highlighted.

Sue Moraska, Program Director, VAST Academy; Brigid Wilson, Faculty, VAST Academy, Houston Community College (TX)

Minority Students' Low Persistence: Faculty and Student Perceptions

ROOM 18D • STUDENT SUCCESS

Using a Q-sort methodological study, the researcher assessed faculty and student perceptions of retention barriers affecting minority persistence rates. Participants discuss various retention barriers and assess their perceptions and attitudes. They then select items they feel most strongly impact retention rates for minority students, as well as the ones that least contribute to students' persistence rates.

David Townsend, Instructor, English, Richmond Community College (NC)

Curing Helpless Hannah's Blues: Transforming Math Students With Reading Apprenticeships

ROOM 19A • TEACHING AND LEARNING

Explore the need for higher levels of success in mathematics and the general absence of student self-confidence in beginning mathematics courses. Learn how math anxiety can be changed into math confidence through Reading Apprenticeships. Participants experience Reading Apprenticeship concepts and practices that illustrate metacognition, active reading and thinking, and collaborative community.

Karen Hattaway, Professor, English, San Jacinto College North (TX); Sandy McCurdy, Professor, Mathematics, San Jacinto College South (TX)

4:15 – 5:00 p.m.

Roundtable Discussions

Roundtable Discussions are held in Room 15.

Syll-a-What?

ROUNDTABLE DISCUSSION #1 • DIVERSITY AND INCLUSION

Examine how to help put students at ease on the first day of class while conveying the information necessary to ensure student success. First impressions, standard course syllabi, and how to create a harmonious classroom setting are discussed.

Angela Walker, Coordinator, PASS Center, Vernon College (TX)

Beyond the Field Trip: Teaching Art History at the Museum

ROUNDTABLE DISCUSSION #2 • TEACHING AND LEARNING

Explore educational activities and practices that enhance the study of art history and emphasize the role of museums in today's society. Discover problem-based learning activities, docent-led tours, behind-the-scenes visits, and building a museum collection.

Alba De Leon, Professor, Art, Palo Alto College (TX)

Transdisciplinary Xenophilia: Thinking Across Disciplines Worldwide

ROUNDTABLE DISCUSSION #3 • EDUCATIONAL TECHNOLOGY

Learn new ways to engage demographically diverse learners across the curriculum and around the world with open-access, interactive, timeless, and customizable materials promoting knowledge that is self-directed and shared everywhere.

Katherine Watson, Professor, International Languages, Coastline Community College (CA)

4:15 – 5:00 p.m.

Roundtable Discussions (cont.)

DL Should Infer Direct Learning Rather Than Distance Learning

ROUNDTABLE DISCUSSION #4 • TEACHING AND LEARNING
Distance learning courses are generally regarded as impersonal and imply learning at a distance. Come discuss how to revitalize online courses to increase student completion rates using an evolutionary method called direct learning.

Randy Snyder, Chair, Fine Arts, San Jacinto College (TX)

5:00 – 8:00 p.m.

Dinner and Jam Session

HILTON AUSTIN, GRAND BALLROOM, LEVEL 6

Join us for dinner and a variety of music as conference participants join Groove Labs, the official NISOD house band, in a not-to-be-missed Jam Session. Groove Labs brings the party by playing the latest dance, classic rock, country, and soul hits. And you can get your groove on with the band. Grab a microphone, guitar, bass, or even get on the drum kit (if you've got the game) and rock out with the band!

Having grown up on a farm, I subscribe to the teacher-as-farmer metaphor. Both take an inordinate amount of preparation before seeding can begin. Once the seeds are planted, you must nurture and monitor their development. Though daunting at times, each semester I look forward to sowing the seeds of knowledge and reaping the harvest of my students' successes.

Two New NISOD Benefits!

Scott Wright Student Essay Contest

Community College Week and the National Institute for Staff and Organizational Development (NISOD) are proud to announce the annual Scott Wright Student Essay Contest in honor of Scott Wright, past editor of Community College Week (1995–2000), recipient of the 1998 Award for Excellence in Higher Education Journalism, and the reporter who brought national attention to developmental education and the unique mission community colleges possess in providing an accessible education.

www.nisod.org/studentessaycontest

Community College Excellence in Diversity Award

The Award, commissioned by Diverse: Issues in Higher Education and the National Institute for Staff and Organizational Development (NISOD), will annually identify and recognize exceptional commitment to diversity (including race/ethnicity, gender, sexual orientation, disability, age, class, veterans, and thought) through best-in-class student and staff recruitment and retention practices, inclusive learning and working environments, and meaningful community service and engagement opportunities.

www.nisod.org/diversityaward

Each webinar, a free benefit for NISOD-member colleges, includes action-oriented, measurable, and learning-focused objectives that will help faculty members improve their teaching techniques for online, hybrid, blended, and face-to-face courses.

Achieve3000

Booth #323

The number one indicator of college and career readiness is the ability to read and respond critically to nonfiction text. Achieve3000 understands that the mission of community colleges is to prepare their students for college and career. Achieve3000 also understands that a large percentage of those students lag well behind in critical reading capacities and are assigned to classes to improve upon those skills. Achieve3000 differentiated online literacy solutions are proven to dramatically increase reading and writing gains. By setting reading levels, differentiating nonfiction text to each student's unique academic profile, and continually assessing and increasing the complexity of text, these innovative solutions accelerate the path to college and career readiness. Students using the Achieve3000 solution are doubling reading gain expectations, allowing them to continue their path to college and/or career. For more information and to learn about the Kentucky Community College and Technical System's incredible results, visit our booth.

The University of Texas at Austin, Program in Higher Education Leadership

Booth #127

The Program in Higher Education Leadership (PHEL) consists of two academic concentrations: Community College Leadership Program (CCLP) and Higher Education Administration Program (HEAP). CCLP concentration enhances and develops competencies and skills that are required to effectively lead community colleges and to engage in research related to community college issues. HEAP concentration prepares leaders to become administrators of colleges and universities, as well as higher education scholars and instructors.

Walden University

Booth #121

The Richard W. Riley College of Education and Leadership at Walden University is accredited by the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE). As a recognized standard of excellence in professional education for the preparation of teachers, administrators, and Pre-K12 school professionals, NCATE accreditation ensures the college has met rigorous national standards set by the profession and members of the public. Named for the former Secretary of the U.S. Department of Education, the Riley College of Education and Leadership is dedicated to improving educator effectiveness and preparing educators who make a positive impact on student achievement. The college is the choice of more than 54,000 students and alumni, including more than 80 state teachers of the year. From our teacher preparation to our doctoral degree programs, the college connects educators with nationally recognized education experts, policymakers, and scholar-practitioners who are driving change and influencing the future of education.

WAYS TO ENGAGE WITH NISOD

NISOD's mission is to improve teaching and learning by providing extraordinary professional development for faculty, administrators, and staff, with the ultimate goal of increasing student success. Below are ways you can get more involved with NISOD.

Read Innovation Abstracts. Each week, a new issue of Innovation Abstracts, NISOD's flagship teaching and learning publication, written by and for community and technical college practitioners, is posted in the members-only section of the our website. Innovation Abstracts authors share their best ideas about programs, projects, and strategies that improve students' higher education experiences. A full academic year's collection of Innovation Abstracts features a wide array of topics, with each issue having something for everyone.

Write an Innovation Abstracts. Innovation Abstracts provide an excellent opportunity for community and technical college educators to share their best ideas about programs, projects, and strategies that improve students' higher education experiences. In addition, although they are not peer-reviewed, some faculty members may find including their Innovation Abstracts articles useful during the promotion and tenure processes. Don't miss out on the outstanding opportunity to share thoughtful and inspirational insights with your colleagues about the excellent programs, projects, and strategies taking place on your campus! Please review the author guidelines if you are interested in authoring an Innovation Abstracts.

Participate in monthly webinars. Led by community and technical college leaders and other experts in the field, NISOD's monthly Webinar Series enables faculty members to conveniently learn about best practices and cutting-edge research related to effective teaching. Each webinar includes action-oriented, measurable, and learning-focused objectives that will help faculty members improve their teaching techniques for online, hybrid, blended, and face-to-face courses.

Present your ideas. Submit an idea for a breakout session, roundtable discussion, or poster session at the annual NISOD conference. NISOD's call for presentations invites proposals that address important issues facing today's community and technical colleges.

Connect through social media. Engage with NISOD on Twitter, LinkedIn, Facebook, and to participate in peer-to-peer discussions, receive useful content, and stay abreast of what's happening with NISOD and community and technical organizations around the world.

Member-only benefits. The "members-only" section of our website is an exclusive benefit that provides an array of information, communications, and other features available only to NISOD members.

About the National Institute for Staff and Organizational Development (NISOD)

Created in 1978 with initial grants from the W.K. Kellogg Foundation and the Fund for the Improvement of Postsecondary Education, the National Institute for Staff and Organizational Development (NISOD) is a consortium of community and technical colleges that share a philosophical commitment to support excellence in teaching, learning, and leadership. NISOD supports excellence in teaching and leadership at its member colleges each week by distributing professional development materials such as Innovation Abstracts to its members. We are excited about our future as we strive to be the premier source of innovative ideas for community and technical college faculty members, administrators, and staff.

NISOD is the outreach organization of the community college doctoral concentration in the Program in Higher Education Leadership within the Department of Educational Administration at The University of Texas at Austin. Established in 1944, the community college concentration is the oldest graduate preparation program of its kind in the nation. The program has produced more presidents and more university professors with community college specialties than any other university program. NISOD grew out of the research and development activities of this doctoral-level concentration and is now its primary connection with college faculty and administrators who support teaching and learning excellence in the field.

NISOD's activities and programs are based on the premise that teaching excellence is a result of concerned and focused leadership, increased awareness and use of adult learning principles strengthened by exemplary teaching practices and technologies, and a profound commitment to teaching excellence and student success. Member colleges who make this commitment to teaching excellence aim to:

- Enrich the learning experience for all students;
- Enhance the standards of excellence throughout the academic community;
- Recognize, celebrate, and reward outstanding educators and their accomplishments.
- NISOD members have access to the following outstanding campuswide benefits:
 - Discounted registrations for NISOD's annual International Conference on Teaching and Leadership Excellence;
 - Recognition of outstanding faculty, staff, and administrators through NISOD's Excellence Awards program;
 - Innovation Abstracts, NISOD's flagship teaching and learning strategies publication;
 - NISOD's Webinar Series, led by community college leaders and experts in the field;
 - Exclusive member offers from NISOD Corporate Partners;
 - Valuable resources available exclusively on the member-only section of NISOD's website;
 - Our new Administrator Series held in conjunction with NISOD's annual spring conference.
